EUROPE.

THE CZAR AND SULTAN MAKE FRIENDS.

Russians Leaving for Home---Bismarck and the Congress--Dissatisfaction in Vienna.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—A special to the Times' dated San Stefano Monday says: General Ignatieff will go to Constantinople to-morrow. It is not certain whether the Grand Duke Nicholas will accompany him. The Grand Duke will remain in Turkey some weeks.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times' telegraphs, the treaty will probably not be published until the text is received by Courier a week or ten days hence.

It is now hoped that the Congress will assemble in Berlin and the three Chancellors will attend. I have reason to believe that Prince Bismarck consented to preside.

The Daily Telegraph has a dispatch from its Pera correspondent saying: It is stated that the Russians will begin to leave there immediately, some of them embarking at Pera and others at San Stefano.

The treaty of peace has been sent to St. Petersburg for formal ratification.

The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: at the opening of the Congress a motion will be brought forward probably by a German delegate in favor of the immediate annexation to Austria of Bosnia and Herzegovina. Prince Bismarck has quite recently renewed his advice in favor of such annexation.

LONDON, March 5.—The political outlook is regarded as much brighter in all the European capitals in consequence of the signature of the treaty of peace, and the resumption of negotiations for a Congress.

The talk in the lobbies of Parliament yesterday evening was all peaceful. The members even discussing the prospect of a longer Easter recess than usual, and an earlier prorogation in the Autumn.

A special from San Stefano to the Daily News, says: The amount of tribute to be paid by Bulgaria is not to be fixed for two years, during which time measures will be taken to ascertain the resources and revenues of the country, which will be occupied by fifty thousand Russian troops two years, or until the native army can be formed and rendered capable of maintaining order. The tribute when fixed will go towards paying the Russian war indemnity.

The ultimate form of government, whether constitutional or absolute, will be decided partly by the Bulgarian Prince and Assembly, and partly by Europe.

Servia will have Nisch, but not Widdin, which will remain Bulgarian.

Thessaly and Epirus will share the administrative reforms stipulated for Bosnia.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 5.—The Sultan has sent the following telegram to the Emperor: "Constantinople, March 3.—On the occasion of the anniversary of your Majesty's accession to the throne, I offer my congratulation with the desire of renewing our friendly relations.

The Emperor in reply telegraphed as follows: I thank your Majesty for your congratulations which I received simultaneously with the news of the signature of peace. I perceive in this coincidence a presage of good and lasting relations between us.

LONDON, March 5.—The Times' San Stefano correspondent says: Roumania is not included in the peace conditions. Russia has told Turkey she must treat directly with Roumania whose pretensions are too great.

Vienna newspapers are dissatisfied with the peace conditions as far as known. The papers express the opinion that a most difficult phase of the crisis is yet to be passed. They say that nobody wishes to disturb the great result of the war. The liberation of the christians, but while the demands calculated to lead to a conflict with England, have been dropped by Russia, similar considerations have not been shown for Austria. It is stated that Count Andrassy will make a full exposition of his policy to the delegations which will meet during the present week probably on the 7th inst.

LONDON, March 5.—A special dispatch to the Lloyd's, from Galatz, says, the work of removing the obstructions in the Danube, will begin to-morrow. It is expected that it will be open for navigation in two weeks.

Failures.

NEW YORK, March 5.—H. O. Boyd & Co., commission liquor dealers and J. C. Kathecalt & Co., importers of fancy dry goods have failed.

The schedule of assignment of Alexander McDonald was filed to-day. Liabilities, $21,920 465. Nominal assets, $982,142. Real $1,460. McDonald is an ex-United States Senator of Arkansas and does business chiefly in the west. He has resided in this city only since the war.

NEW YORK, March 5.—The Industrial Exhibition Company, in 1871, purchased a lot of land, lying between 99th and 103rd streets, and 3rd and 4th avenues, for the purpose of establishing an Industrial Exhibition. The price paid was $1,700,000. The scheme was not successful, and Thursday last the land, which had been divided into eight lots, was sold under foreclosure by several insurance companies holding mortgages upon it. The sum realized was $400,000. The former manager of the Exhibition Company, states that soon after the purchase of the property the company was offered $2,500,000 for it.

Nine creditors of Wilson & Grieg, dry goods merchants, 771 Broadway, filed a petition to have the firm adjudicated as bankrupt. The claims of the petitioning creditors amount to $37,291.

A Tornado in Kentucky.

STANFORD, KY., March 5.—A tornado four hundred yards wide swept through Casey county last Saturday. A family named Vincent Westley, living near Reap Hill, consisting of himself, wife, two grown daughters, a boy named Sloan, nephew, and Wm. Taylor, a neighbor, stopping at his house, were killed outright. Mrs. Westley's body was blown 400 yards. Her clothing was entirely stripped off. The two daughters were carried fifty yards, and when found were locked in each other's arms. The father and nephew were fearfully mangled, and all must have been killed by the first force of the tempest. The dwelling, stables, and out-houses were blown entirely away. The hearth and foundation stone were blown from their places. In the vicinity Mrs. Olive and Mrs. Morgan, wife of Jno. W. Morgan, were killed. The dwelling and out-houses of J. Floyd were completely swept away, and the timbers scattered in every direction. In the village of Mount Olive several houses were swept away. The loss is $50,000.

Forty-Fifth Congress.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—SENATE.—Spencer, of Alabama, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reports favorably on the House bill to relieve Wm. A. Hammond, late Surgeon General of the army, and it was placed on the calendar.

Wadleigh, of New Hampshire, from the Committee on patents, reported favorably on the Senate bill to amend the statutes in relation to the payments for patents, and it was placed on the calendar.

The committee on Banking and Currency of the House, with two dissenting votes, will report favorably on the postal savings bill.

The Finance Committee of the Senate show no disposition to act on the House bill for the repeal of the resumption act.

The Ways and Means Committee amended the tariff to admit books not published within 20 years, free.

Thurman introduced, in the Senate, a bill preventing members of Congress becoming boudsmen fer mail contractors.

The House is occupied on the Senate bill appropriating money for the payment of claims allowed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Confirmation—Porter, first Comptroller of the Treasury.

HOUSE—The House being in Committee of the Whole on a bill to supply deficiencies for clerical work in the Treasury Department, was addressed by Kelly of Pennsylvania, against the resumption act, and in reply to the speech made by Garfield, of Ohio, in opposition to the repeal of that measure.

Nomination—Wm. A. Berkely, Postmaster at Alexandria, Va.

SENATE.—Beck spoke at length on his resolution submitted January 1st, declaring it inexpedient, at this time, to levy and collect taxes for the maintenance of the sinking fund, and, on his motion, the resolution was referred to the Finance Committee. The Senate then went into executive session.

The Pennsylvania Central.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The report of the Pennsylvania Central Rail Road and those which it controls through Col. Tom Scott has been published. Earnings of the main line nineteen millions. Expense ten and three quarter millions. Branches earnings 5½ millions. Expense excluding the rentals, interest, dividends, &c., 34 millions. Estimated losses by the suspension of traffic and destruction of property during the riots, two millions to recover which legal proceedings have been inaugurated.

Town of Hot Springs Burned.

LITTLE ROCK, March 5.—A despatch from the Hot Springs announces that a conflagration is in progress there. Nearly the whole business portion of the place has been already burned, including the Hot Springs hotel, the American House, [illegible] houses, together with the bank, printing office, etc.

MEMPHIS, March 5.—A private despatch from the Hot Springs says: The fire destroyed all the buildings in that town from the Express office to Malvern crossing, including the telegraph office, Hot Springs hotel, and the principal business houses of the place.

Yellow Fever.

LONDON, March 5.—Advices received from Rio Janeiro report that yellow fever prevails in that city. There were between forty and fifty cases reported in the first fortnight of February.

A Salvage Suit.

LONDON, March 5.—In the Cleopatra Salvage suit, in the court of Admiralty, Judge Sir Robert Phillemore to-day fixed the joint value of ship and obelisk at 25,000 pounds.

A Cable Laid.

NEW YORK, March 5.—The second cable has been successfully laid between Jamaica and Santiago De Cuba by the steamship Investigation.

John Ruskin.

LONDON, March 5.—The condition of Mr. John Ruskin is somewhat better.

It is Important

That farmers should look after their interests, especially in guano. They ought to buy the brand that contains the most phosphoric acid and soluble bone. The "L. & R." has the reputation, and our State Chemist says its analysis shows more than any other brand sold in the State. A. C. Sanders & Co. are the agents at Raleigh. *

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

Congressional Routine--"Troubled Tar-Heels"--Liberal Donations--The Father of the Silver Bill--Ingersoll Rebuked.

(From our own Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, March 4th, 1878.

Both Houses of Congress are again in session to-day, with the prospect of a busy week for each. The Senate resumes the consideration of its calendar, and as Monday is the House day for the introduction of bills, etc., the old "demition grind" (as Mr. Mantalini would say), will go on. I have heretofore mentioned that nearly 5,000 bills and resolutions have thus far been presented. I was about to say that at least two-thirds of them will "sleep the sleep that knows no waking," but this is far from being the case. They will have only a temporary slumber,—to be galvanized into a new and fuller existence in the next Congress. There are bills now pending which have been periodically introduced, over and over again, for the last ten years. An old member of Congress will look over his register in the document room,—a new member will inspect his predecessor's register,—and such bills as failed of passage, or slept in committee, will be "trotted out" again; and this, in a large majority of cases, that the Hon. So-and-so may figure on the journals and in the Congressional Record!

The Post of this morning, under the sensational and alliterative caption of "Troubled Tar-heels," contains the particulars of an interview with Mr. Thos. B. Keogh and Col. Jno. N. Staples, of Greensboro, relative to Mr. Waddell's bill for the abolition of our Western Judicial District, in which both gentlemen took vigorous grounds against the proposition and vindicated the official rectitude of Judge Dick and Marshal Douglas. It must be said that the bulk of the petitions thus far presented to Congress on the subject have been in opposition to the bill. It impresses me that the most feasible and satisfactory solution of the matter would be the adoption of Gen. Scales' bill, requiring the Judges to alternate the circuits.

You observe, very sensibly and truly, in the NEWS of Saturday last, that we must not expect too much from the remonetization of silver. Certainly we must not, and need not, anticipate any immediate or very speedy financial amelioration. Time, however, will prove the wisdom of the legislation. The mints are already at work in the matter of smelting and coinage, and it is semi-officially given out that the issue will progress at the rate of three and a half millions of dollars a month. In one respect, at least, the new dollar will not be the "dollar of our daddies," in as much as the die adopted, and known as the Morgan die, makes a mark of indentation instead of the old relievo raising on the face of the coin. Apropos to this whole matter, there is said to be a fierce jealousy between Bland and Ewing touching the paternity of the silver bill. It does not appear so of record. I mean at the present session, but it is [illegible] see, introduced, during the first session of the 44th Congress, the earliest bill looking to the remonetization of silver, as he was the first representative on the floor of Congress to call attention to the insidious manner of its demonetization,—which he did in a speech delivered Jan. 25th, 1875.

I often wonder and lament why it is that our State University,—nursery, as it has been, of so many great and good men,—cannot come in for a share of some of those liberal endowments that have been, and are being, bestowed on other institutions of learning. You know that Mr. Corcoran, of this city, is said to have given $50,000, or more, to both the University of Virginia and to Washington Lee College. Lately, also, as you aware, Mr. McCormick, of Chicago, offered to give the latter a new telescope, to cost $50,000, provided a further sum of $30,000 could be raised to build an observatory and mount the instrument. Col. Tom Scott subscribed $10,000 of the amount, and now such prominent ladies in New York as Mrs. Astor, Mrs. Belmont, and others, are making strenuous efforts to secure the residue, which promise to be a complete success. Speaking of our University, Mr. Grant, of Iowa, formerly of North Carolina and an Alumnus, was recently in this city, and I was glad to learn that he has accepted an invitation to deliver one of the annual addresses at Chapel Hill in June.

It was my fortune, on yesterday, to hear, at St. John's Church, (Episcopal,) an admirable sermon from the Rector, the Rev. Dr. Lewis, in reply to the atheistic and infidelistic theories of the day, as enunciated principally by that blatant and shameless blasphemer, the notorious Bob Ingersoll. It was a compact argument, from foundation to cap stone, reared on the basis of revelation and nature, and was replete with copious learning and forcible illustration.

The afternoon found me, in the company of some ladies from our good old State, wandering through the grounds of Oak-Hill Cemetery at Georgetown. My eyes rarely rested on a lovelier spot than this "silent city of the dead," and the Memorial Chapel, covered with moss and ivy, in its centre, is as chaste and beautiful as the architecture of a poet's dream. From one elevated point there is a majestic view of Washington that baffles description. As one stands on that eminence, the contemplations that fill the mind are strange and varied. In the distance—the gay and brilliant metropolis, bustling with the exuberant joyous life that is; around you the shapely and graceful monuments that speak so eloquently of the life that was; while the spires of the city, towering heavenward, alike with the moral and the lesson of the impressive memorials about you, point to the life that is to come.

The afternoon was lovely, the air balmy and bright, the Sabbath quiet and repose in harmony with the impressions of the hour. One could almost catch the inspiration that led the sweet German poet, Gluck, to exclaim:

"Methinks it were no pain to die
On such an eve, when such a sky
O'er canopies the West."

S. G.

A comical witness was the Hon. George Henry di Straboglie Neville Plantagenet Harrison, described by the London papers as a general who had served in several foreign armies, and of some distinction as a literary antiquary. He bought a watch for $375 and paid $25 on account. After leaving the watch to have his coat-of-arms engraved upon it, he called to ask the jewellers to rescind the bargain. They would not do this, and after some delay sued him for the balance of the account. During the cross-examination the defendant boasted that he was a Plantagenet lineally descended from Henry VI. When asked whether he was related to the Royal family, he replied, "They are not Plantagenets; they claim their descent from the Elector of Germany. They are, I should say, of the Republican stock." On being further asked whether he had any expectation of succeeding to the throne of England, he said, "I would not take it if it were offered to me."

THE WORLEY MURDER.

Important Revelations.

(Special Correspondence of the NEWS.)

GOLDSBORO, March 5, 7 P. M.

One Jerry Cox, with various alias, who was one of the witnesses before the Coroner in the case of the Worley murder, was arrested on yesterday and makes the following statement:

"I met Noah Cherry about 8 o'clock at night, on Monday of the 11th of February, (the night of the murder). Noah said to me: "Jim, I've just killed that rascal, Jim Worley, and his wife too; they are both out of the way. Harris Atkinson and Bob Thompson helped me do the work."

He further states that he has abstained from any revelation of the above facts, through fear that a disclosure would tend to criminate himself. One of the accused, Robt. Thompson, is now in jail at this place, and the Sheriff leaves this P. M., for Johnston county, armed with a warrant for the arrest of Harris Atkinson, who, it is safe to presume, will find lodgings in Wayne county jail, on to-morrow, (Wednesday).

When the above facts were brought to the knowledge of Noah Cherry, in the presence of the Coroner and Sheriff, he exclaimed in his own peculiar manner: "Before my God, I am not guilty," and to add to the impressiveness of his assertion, he burst into tears. He seemed to realize, fully, his present position, and remarked: "I know I'm going to be hung, and I'd like to know how long it'll be 'fore my time comes."

He maintained to the last his innocence, and was remanded to jail. The accused, Noah Cherry, has employed counsel, who will conduct his defence.

Considerable excitement prevails in the town, but it is not feared that extreme measures will be resorted to. Public opinion inclines to the belief that all of the parties named are guilty, Jerry Cox with the others. Important developments may be expected within the next 48 hours. F.

Meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

The Board held their regular monthly meeting last evening. The following business matters were transacted. The Finance Committee reported the disbursements for February as amounting to $1,356.07. The report was accepted. Alderman Adams, chairman of the Street Committee, reported the amount of rock work done on streets and culverts in the mouth of February. The [illegible] reports in the mouth of February.

A communication from Alderman Rigg, chairman Fire Committee, was read, stating that he had ordered the Chemical engine to be placed in one of the rooms at the East end of the Market House, at his own expense. The letter was referred to Chief of the Fire Department. Alderman Blake, of the special committee in regard to Insurance, asked for further time to make his report, which was granted.

W. R. Crawford petitioned the Board to reduce the rent on stall No. 8 in Market House. The matter was referred to a special committee.

A petition was presented from a number of citizens in regard to the opening of Person, Bloodworth and East streets to the southern boundary line. Referred.

A license was granted Jacob Higgs to retail spirituous liquors on Wilmington street.

According to the present law it is the duty of the Board at their first meeting in March to appoint the Registrars and Poll-holders in the several wards, for the election in May. The following appointments were accordingly made: General Registrar, J J Christophers. Poll-Holders: 1st Ward. W H Hicks, Geo W Wynne, J P Prairie, S M Parish, Registrar, J J Christophers. 2nd Ward. Joe Watson, Oliver Roan, V Ballard, A C Saunders. Registrar, J H Kirkham. 3rd Ward. E G Brown, A P Bryan, Alex Long, H T Clawson. Registrar, Geo Bishop. 4th, Ward. W J Blake, John Craven, Sylvester Smith, Joe De Carteret. Registrar, E O Macy. 5th Ward. C D Heartt, J M Betts, Benj Rhodes, Robert Wyche. Registrar, Andrew Syme.

Alderman Blake introduced the following resolution, which was adopted: That Metropolitan Hall be lighted with gas instead of oil, and that no person or persons shall use the hall for any purpose unless he or they pay the usual rent, and in cases where the hall is let for charitable or other meetings held at night, when the usual rent is not charged, the persons using it shall pay in advance to the janitor the sum of seven dollars to cover the expenses of gas and fuel, and in case the janitor fails to collect the amount in advance, he shall pay the amount himself.

On motion of Alderman Martin, the meeting adjourned.

Fresh Garden Seed.

The Centennial Grand Prize Medal, and Diploma of Honor were awarded to Buist's Garden Seeds, for their purity and superior quality. Pescud, Lee & Co., Druggists, have just received a fresh supply and are prepared to fill all orders. *

RUTHERFORD.

The County--Increasing Culture of Cotton and Tobacco--Need of a Railroad--The Dog Nuisance.

(From our own Correspondent.)

RUTHERFORDTON, March 1, 1878.

Rutherford county is considered, by most of the Eastern part of the State, as being in the mountains, but the people of the county in speaking of the mountains, speak of them as being still beyond us. Nevertheless, Rutherford is to some extent mountainous, especially in the Northwestern portion, and within her borders is to be found some of the finest of Western North Carolina's boasted scenery. The people are quiet and hospitable, generally, most of them engaged in farming, and though the farmers sometimes complain of no pay, in their business, yet we have a good many well to do farmers, and among them are to be found our most reliable men.

The continued rain for some weeks past, until within the last few days, has very much impeded the farm work, and men who are always ready for the opening spring, now find much of their land unbroken and the seeds unsown.

Until within three or four years, it has been a prevalent idea that cotton would not grow successfully here and no one ever risked more than a lot for family use. But since that time its production has been rapidly increasing, and the southern and eastern portions are now raising it to some considerable extent.

In the northern and western parts the culture of tobacco has increased almost as rapidly within the same time.

As regards her political standing, I suppose, most of the people know, since every movement was so anxiously watched during the last campaign, with what earnestness the Democratic party labored for the success of the cause, and how well they achieved the victory—the first since the name of peace was proclaimed among us.

But with her advantages there are mingled the inevitable disadvantages that are always thrown in as a necessary ingredient in every human experience, one of the principal, of which is, that we have no Rail Road.

The Carolina Central stops twenty-four miles east of us at Shelby, and though the road has been graded to within two miles of our village, yet the engine has never come nearer than its present terminus.

About twenty miles southwest of us passes the Spartanburg and Asheville Rail Road, while on the other side it is twenty-six miles from Rutherfordton to the Western Road at Marion.

Our people grow anxious sometimes and stir themselves about, hold meetings, pass resolutions, appoint committees, &c., but after a little they seem to become resigned and we hear but little of it. The last Legislature gave us a charter for a road from Spartanburg, South Carolina, to this place, a distance of about 35 miles but up to this time very little action has been taken by the people, and but from the fact that the country has already lost a considerable amount of money by a Rail Road project I would say that such efforts are unworthy of success.

There has been considerable excitement in some parts of the county upon the subject of mad dogs, and I have it from some reliable parties that there have actually been some four or five killed in the county during a few weeks just past, and several other animals which were bitten by them have taken hydrophobia. Three persons have also been bitten by supposed mad dogs, but up to this time none of them show any signs of that dreadful disease.

Another success we have is the business of raising dogs, our county is overrun already, and no pup, however shabby, but what manages to live, and make a dog of some sort or other.

When the forests were dense and full of wild beasts, and valuable game, it would have been oppression to impose a tax upon dogs, but now since the game is small and inoffensive it would be a blessing to the people and a relief to the dogs.

MOUNTAINEER.

Letter from Hatteras.

(Special Correspondence of the News.)

CAPE HATTERAS, Feb. 25, 1878.

The only news of importance is disaster and death. On the night of the 21st inst., the bark ship Philipp Suppiuch, Capt. Ludwig Koeff, was wrecked on the North point of Hatteras Bar, Hatteras Inlet. From papers and books found, the vessel is supposed to be from Germany, and her owner or owners are supposed to reside in Rostock, a town situated on the Baltic. No clue could be found as to where she hailed from, or her intended destination; all papers found from her are of old dates. The Captain's private journal and Mate's manual of navigation show no recent entries; the only paper bearing a recent date is a certificate of insurance, and is now in the possession of Mr. F. B. Cooksey, signal officer at Cape Hatteras, dated "Hartlepool, England, April 12th, 1877," signed by "Coverdale, Merryweather and Todd." The cargo is supposed to have been potash, as several barrels have washed ashore. Several chests have washed ashore containing clothing and bedding. One body was found on the 22d, supposed, from general appearances, to be that of the Captain. Two others were found on the 24th, but nothing to identify their names. The crew are all supposed to be drowned. No assistance could be rendered on account of the waves. The vessel now is a total wreck. The body supposed to be that of the Captain, was buried by Mr. A. J. Stowe. The other two will be interred without delay. The signal officer from Cape Hatteras immediately opened communication with the chief signal office at Washington, D. C. G. L. F.

A Lady's Invention.

We publish the following in regard to a very useful invention, namely the Reel, for which a patent has been issued to Mrs. S. A. Elliott, of Oxford, N. C. The following letter from a prominent manufacturing firm to Mrs. Elliott explains itself. The firm have taken the contract for the manufacture, and say:

"HAMMERSLY FOUNDRY,
NEW YORK, Feb. 25th, 1878.

We are now busy with our arrangements to manufacture the Reel, but like all new inventions, it requires time to perfect details so as to make it at the lowest possible cost. We will send you a sample as soon as possible, with the price, wholesale and retail.

Respectfully,
G. B BILLERWELL & Co.

Governor Vance.

(From the Hillsboro Recorder.)

Rather prematurely, we cannot help thinking, the question of the Senatorial election has disturbed the equanimity of some of our contemporaries. Since the question has been sprung, we are at no loss to construe the motives of the attacks upon the administration of Gov. Vance, seeing that those attacks are at the bottom of the purpose to oppose his election.

Last winter there were friends of his Excellency so far carried away by their enthusiasm as to insist that he should be nominated to the place now so worthily filled by Matt W. Ransom. We opposed this precipitancy upon the ground that the people, with unwonted expression, had called him to fill one office; one, in which peculiar adaptation to its duties, was ascribed to him. A sober second thought appreciated the soundness of our views, and Gov. Vance, duly installed as Governor of the State, entered upon his office with the full abnegation, both on his part and that of his friends, of all ulterior ambitious projects.

He is now in the second year of his term; and apart from the opposition of a captious journalism, he has not abated one jot in his hold upon the affections or esteem of the people. Both love and respect enter into the elements which give him his wonderful hold upon the popular mind. Without the first, he could not have aroused the fierce blaze of enthusiasm which blasted all opposition; without the second, he could not have retained what he had gained, if reaction had exposed weakness of foundation. It is the peculiar merit of Gov. Vance that those light and amiable qualities which appeal to the affections, are only the graceful ornaments of a solid structure of worth whose stability becomes the more assured under every test of its strength. He has proved himself, not only the popular man, but the safe, prudent, sagacious and expansive statesman.

The time has come when he shall enter into the full enjoyment of long deferred honors. North Carolina once sent him, with full recognition of his honors, to the United States Senate. He was forced to stand at its doors as a suppliant, and under the decree of a bigoted partisanship, was excluded from his rights.

When he could have been legitimately returned and admitted, most untoward combinations confirmed his exclusion, and consigned him to obscurity until that time when the people, with spontaneous act, lifted him to the highest post of popular preferment.

The people have had him, or will have had him, for two years. Now, let the State have him, grateful for the past, appreciative of the present. It can elevate him without reproach to others. But a man whose character is national is entitled to an elevation where his capacities can be displayed upon a national theatre. Vance is a man the nation wants. Let him be sent to adorn the national councils.

It would be a terrible thing for this country if the President should get mad, as some papers hope he will. If he should get real mad he might discharge one of the White House kitchen girls, and what would the poor girl do?

It has been discovered that immaculate Boston is the most imperfectly drained city in the United States. The drain on Boston intellectuality is so great that they have no time to attend to more material drainage.

London intends to do away with her steam fire engines and hereafter depend on high pressure hydrants in case of fire. The trouble with London fire engines is that they seldom get around to the fire before it is burned out and they thus lose a good deal of fun, which has rather a trying effect on the temper of the firemen.

Another terror has been added to railroad travel. Miss May Fisk, an actress, a cousin of the late James Fisk, Jr., delivered a lecture on "Womanly Duties" in a Pullman palace car on Wednesday between Tremont and Omaha, a part of a through train from the West. The lady stood in one end of the car, her auditors facing her. She kept her feet notwithstanding the vibration of the train and spoke for about half an hour.

Fairbanks' Scales.

Uncle Sam has a right to be proud, for the whole world is beginning to find out that the old gentleman means business. He supplies all creation with fire-arms, pianos, sewing machines, and a thousand other things, to say nothing of silver and gold, corn and cotton, wheat and petroleum, etc. Uncle Sam also feels proud that the "standard" articles of America are fast becoming the "standard" articles of the world. Fairbanks' Scales are now taking the lead in all markets. China calls for them, Japan calls for them, South America calls for them, civilization and intelligence call for them the world over.

The well-known firm of Fairbanks & Co., manufacturers of the "World's Standard" Scales, has received from the kingdom of Siam an official testimonial of their value and correctness, from which it appears that they are held in high esteem by the Custom-House authorities of that country.—New York Independent, Jan. 31st, 1878.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS.

Wilmington and her Railroads.

WILMINGTON, N. C., March 4, '78.

To the Editor of the News:

SIR: You are aware that the prosperity and growth of our city depends more upon the healthy condition and good management of the railroads running to and through this commercial emporium than upon most of other causes. Our citizens are fully alive to this important fact, and hence they cherish a commendable pride in the proverbial good management of these great arteries of our trade and steady increase in wealth and population of our city. Here are located the headquarters of the Carolina Central Railway, of the Wilmington and Weldon Road, and of the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroad. Here the managers and chief officers of these roads reside, and here has been developed a special interest in, and a warm devotion to, these great resources of our commercial importance and steady, substantial progress in all that builds up a city. A communication, therefore, from Wilmington in relation to her railroads will be of interest to all your thoughtful readers and true North Carolinians, who rise above the demagogue in the admission of the established fact in political economy that the property of a state materially depends upon the property of its towns and cities and that these in turn are materially dependant for prosperity and success upon the existence and prosperity of the railroads, that are more especially connected with them. This leading fact in internal improvement, constituting an important principle of political economy, is too much disregarded in North Carolina, owing to the habitual abuse of railroads of every unprincipled bushwhacker, and of all the demagogues of all the professions. It is high time for the leading, substantial citizens of the State to rise in their majesty and put down this senseless clamor against railroads, and to array public sentiment successfully against this intolerable nuisance of evil spirits and, jug, and bobtail men, whether in or out of the Legislature.

A great source of supply of the life-blood of Wilmington is the Carolina Central Railway. There is no more important road to the State than this, as fair-minded men every where acknowledge. Its hosts of friends all over the State will unite with all true men here in rejoicing that it is steadily emerging from that cloud of indebtedness and of financial depression which has so long embarrassed its operations and impeded its progress. It now advertises for all who hold claims for service or supplies previous to the passing of the road into the hands of receivers in April 1876, to come forward for payment. Conceding to others all of credit that is due them, it is the general opinion here, where the facts are known, that this improvement in the financial condition and prosperity of the road is mainly due to the remarkable financial skill and superior administrative abilities of that well-known receiver, Captain Isaac B. Grainger. He has applied himself with great devotion and assiduity to the redemption of the road, and deserves the thanks of the whole State for his successful progress, thus far, in freeing the road from embarrassments. As President of the Bank of New Hanover he has made that institution a success, and caused it to be known as one of the best moneyed banks in the State, as its recent showing demonstrates. As one of our county commissioners he has brought order out of chaos, and placed its former badly managed affairs in good financial condition. Withal, he is one of the most public spirited and useful citizens of our city, always ready, with his big heart and generous hand, to aid the needy and deserving and to contribute liberally to the cause of benevolence, religion and true progress. He is a coming man in North Carolina.

The Wilmington and Weldon Road justly retains its well-earned fame of being one of the best managed roads in the whole country. The ridiculous statement, which has gone the rounds of the State papers, that its management was about to be changed, is without the shadow of a shade of truth. Its publication caused none other than a smile of ridicule and contempt here, where the high order of administrative abilities of its highest officers are universally admitted and admired. The owners of this property are entirely satisfied with the management of the road, and could not be induced to exchange its officers for any others. Hon. R. R. Bridgers is a gentleman, as you well know, of a high order of abilities, and of the most indomitable energy and of rare executive powers. As a Railroad President he has no superior in the whole country, and very few equals. The very efficient Superintendent, Capt. John F. Divine, is always industriously at his post, and gives great satisfaction both to the public and to the owners of the road. There is no disposition to get clear of this popular man and faithful officer, and it would be very difficult to fill his place with any one so acceptable and successful in the discharge of his duties.

The manager-in-chief of the Freight and Ticket Department, Col. A. Pope, is one of those master spirits in energy, tact, genius and adaptation of means, that single him out as Napoleonic in skill and strength. He has extraordinary qualifications as a railroad manager, and is making a brilliant record. There is no better business man, no one more industrious and attentive to his varied and arduous duties, and few who have the power he has of inducing subordinates to do their duty, while, at the same time, he secures and retains their confidence and attachment. He is one who is noted for his accommodating spirit, and is fast becoming one of the most popular railroad men in the whole South, as he assuredly is one of the ablest and best. Our people are very fond of him. The contractors are as polite and gentlemanly as can anywhere be found. There are no more faithful railroad officials than are those clever, cultivated gentlemen, Captains Browning, Cutts, Borden, Lynch and Filyaw, of the Wilmington and Weldon road. There is nowhere to be found a more efficient auxiliary in the important work of transportation of passengers and freight than that noble old Roman of this road, Capt. James Knight, Sen., and his promising son. Captain James Knight, junior, in charge of a freight train, and who is a worthy chip from the old block, is a rising man on the road. Under the faithful direction of that excellent chief of the sections, Capt. Barrey, the bed and rails are kept in fine order, and this experienced railroader has become an indispensable adjunct of the road. Railroad accidents upon this road are now unknown. In speed, promptness, safety, and punctuality in making connections, as well as in meeting obligations, this road stands as high as the highest. It ought to have been stated in another place that the Treasurer, Mr. I. W. Thompson, has no superior in the management of his department, and is one of the best officers known in the whole railroad service of the South. The Auditor's department, in charge of noble fellows, is well conducted, and under a rigid and efficient system of business.

The Wilmington, Columbia, and Augusta road, owned by the owners of the Wilmington and Weldon road, has not been so long under the management of President Bridgers and his able associates, Captain Divine and Col. Pope, as has been the latter road. If it is not so prosperous as the latter, or not yet brought under as good a state of discipline, the causes are not referable to the management of the Wilmington and Weldon road, but its profits are better than those indicated by recent publications, and its prospects better. Time only is wanting to bring it up [illegible] to the best paying roads in the country. The Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta road is the natural outlet to [illegible] communication to the [illegible] those running them are from [illegible] of justice alone to them and to our city. The writer has no financial or other selfish interest in these institutions; under no sort of obligations to any the gentlemen named, and is neither office-holder or an office-seeker; but he is a true Wilmingtonian and a genuine North Carolinian, and a warm, well-wisher of the welfare and prosperity of both, and knows full well that the best interests of our merchants, farmers and all our industrial classes is intimately interwoven with the condition and management of roads that diverge and center here; with the prosperity of Wilmington and other towns and cities, and with the welfare of the State. It is because Wilmington is the most important port, the most populous city, and one of the chief railroad centers of the State; that facts like these here furnished should be spread broadcast over North Carolina. There is a constant increase in its very large exports of spirits of turpentine, naval stores, cotton, peanuts, and lumber of all kinds. There is no better cotton market in the South, and its heavy increase in the exportation of cotton and lumber is of special gratification to its friends. There are no more enterprising, more liberal and fairer-dealing merchants anywhere than are those of our progressive city. Its foreign trade is chiefly with England, Ireland, Holland, Germany and the West Indies. It is the center of a magnificent cotton region, and one that is richer in naval stores than any other in the world. The amount of its shipments in naval stores and spirits of turpentine is about two millions of dollars annually, and our shipments of cotton annually reach about the same figures. Goods and groceries can be bought here as cheap, either by the wholesale or retail, as in Norfolk, Charleston, Baltimore or elsewhere, and our factors and business men generally are as clever and honest as can be found anywhere.

Texarkana is built at the junction of Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana. It received its name in 1819, when an enthusiastic surveyor, running the lines, blazed the three fragments of the names of the now States, on a tree, and predicted that a great city would be built there. Three years ago, when the town was founded, the name, still to be seen on the old tree, was adopted, and the prediction seems in a fair way to be accomplished, as the little burg has some three thousand inhabitants, and is an important railroad station.

They think that they will be able this year to locate a number of good and industrious citizens on our surplus lands.

Hillsboro Recorder: Though the crops of both wheat and oats are rather behind hand, in a general way, (with some few favorable exceptions) yet the ploughs are running gaily, and the sight of frequent smokes and fires at night, show where plant beds are being burnt off, making ready for the future tobacco crop. .....One or two letters have been received at this office, denying in toto, the statement in our last issue with regard to confessions said to have been made by his Grandfather on his supposed death-bed, after a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Walker pronounces the entire article a tissue of falsehoods. What should have induced the fabrication of so monstrous a story is beyond our power to conceive. It is absolutely without foundation, and for the sake of the highly respectable name wantonly used, we hasten to make the correction, as we had not the slightest purpose to injure dead or living.

More Light on Republican Villainy.

FRANKLIN J. MOSES, ex-Governor and thief of South Carolina, has come to the front with his batch of revelations concerning the rascally doings of the Republican party in South Carolina, both during his own administration as Chief Magistrate and that of his successor in wickedness and authority, the eminent scoundrel CHAMBERLAIN. Some days ago, MOSES began in the columns of the New York Herald the story of what he knows of what happened behind the scenes, devoting his first article to an expose of Ku-Kluxism, which he pronounces in great part, "a myth and phantom." But it isn't to the revelations contained in this piece that we desire to direct attention just now, so much as to those found in another contribution from his pen, published in the New York Sun, in which he tells how South Carolina was counted for HAYES.

It will be remembered that South Carolina was at first claimed for Tilden. On the 11th of November, 1876, four days after the Presidential election, we wrote in regard to the Radical game, as follows: "It is all apparent now. The plot against the liberties of the people stands revealed—and it is an ugly thing to be sure. The game is this: South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana, having gone Democratic undoubtedly, the Republicans propose to falsify the returns by acts of unblushing and unparalleled despotism, so as to give the certificates of election to the HAYES electors, in spite of the popular vote for TILDEN; and take the chances in the official count at Washington." MOSES shows up the nefarious modus operandi of the falsification of the returns as to South Carolina. He says, by way of explanation, that under the law in South Carolina the votes for Presidential electors are forwarded by the county canvassers, immediately after they have counted them, to the Secretary of State, in whose office they are to be kept, under his own official responsibility, until the day arrives for the Board of State Canvassers to open and "determine and ascertain" the votes. Then he turns them over to the board, and there his supervision over them as Secretary of State ceases. During the time they remain in his custody the law contemplates their being kept safe from the approach, touch, or inspection of any one. The State Canvassing Board was required to meet in the Secretary of State's office within ten days after each State or county election, and then and there to proceed to open the boxes and and determine the result of the election.

MOSES then goes on to say that on the occasion of which he speaks, these ten days expired on a Tuesday, and it was on the Sunday preceding this Tuesday that the work of altering the returns was effected. On that day there assembled in the Secretary of State's office, with doors barred against all other comers, the following members of the Board of State Canvassers: F. L. Cardoza, State Treasurer; Henry E. Hayne, Secretary of State; William Stone, Attorney-General; and Thomas C. Dunn, Comptroller-General.

"This last-named man," says MOSES, "was the head and front of the whole infamous business, and according to the testimony of Dennis and others, who know whereof they speak, he had planned and proposed the nefarious transaction in which they had assembled there to engage. They had with them as co-laborers and counsellors in their work Judge Cartter, of Washington, D. C., who had been making himself very active in consultations with the Board, and whom it was said had been specially sent from Washington to see that the State was counted for Hayes. Judge Settle of North Carolina, was also present, lending his valuable aid, and was accompanied by one Judge Dewey, from one of the Western States, who, up to that time, was entirely unknown in South Carolina."

These conspirators, the ex-Governor further states, proceeded, in the office of the Secretary of State, "to open and verify the returns, and it was found that Tilden had carried the State by over one thousand majority of strictly legal votes. At once it was determined that such a result must be reversed, and to effect this the returns of several Republican counties were tampered with, so as to increase the majorities which they had really given to Hayes and Wheeler. The figuring was done by Hayne, Cardoza, Stone, Dunn, and Cartter, and the alteration of the returns was achieved by Dunn alone. The returns from Charleston, Georgetown, and Darlington counties were the ones which were tampered with, and in which sufficient votes were altered to give the State to Hayes."

How much truth or how much falsehood there is in all this, it would be hard to say. The individual members of the State Board of Canvassers were no doubt capable of committing such a fraud. CARDOZA, the mulato Treasurer, under MOSES and CHAMBERLAIN, has, since HAMPTON'S administration began, been convicted of fraud upon the treasury, and consigned to prison; HAYNE, the Secretary of State, is a corrupt negro; STONE, the Attorney-General, and DUNN, the Comptroller, are both carpet-baggers of the smooth-faced, villainous type. They were none too good to do all that MOSES alleges against them. But it must not be forgotten, that MOSES himself is a villain of the deepest dye; a man splotched from head to foot with crime and corruption; a prince among rogues. Therefore whatever he says about this matter must be taken with some grains of allowance. However, we are disposed to accept his allegations as founded on truth, as he makes a clean breast of his own share in the South Carolina infamies.

We regret to see Judge SETTLE'S name in this connection; not that we have any particular admiration or esteem for the man, but because he is a North Carolinian, and we cannot but be sorry to see her reputation stabbed through any one of her sons. We all know that Judge SETTLE went to Columbia as counsel for CHAMBERLAIN, and if he did not, as alleged by MOSES, engage in the falsification of the returns, he owes it to himself and to his State to clear himself of the damning charge. If he be guilty, he should be dragged from his position on the Bench and consigned to prison, along with CARDOZA, one of the conspirators. If he be innocent, the sooner that fact is made known, the better.

Meeting of the Asylum Board.

To-day there is a meeting of the Directors of the Insane Asylum at that institution. It is understood that the matter of the Superintendency will be considered. We have not been misunderstood in our demands that offices at the hands of a Democratic administration should be filled by Democrats. We have always insisted upon this line of policy. Sound public policy and good Democracy require that we shall so continue. From the very incoming of the present administration we have demanded a "clean sweep" in all the public Institutions of the State. Upon that policy of self-preservation must stand or fall the Democratic party of North Carolina.

In regard to the superintendency of the Insane Asylum, which has yet undergone no change, we are told that there are legal questions involved as to the term of office of the present incumbent, and there are a variety of opinions as to whether there is any vacancy to fill.

It is argued that the first term of office, under the statute of 1868-'69, began January 1st, 1869, and being for eight years, expired December 31st, 1876. That the Board of Directors, in accordance with custom and in conformity to law, met in November, 1876, in regular annual meeting, and proceeded to the election of a Superintendent for another eight years. It is contended that that election was valid, and vested the present incumbent with a right to the office of Superintendent, which the Legislature, or no other power under our laws, has the right to or can deprive him of.

On the other hand, it is insisted that there is a vacancy; that the term of office as fixed by the Legislature of 1868-'69 was for eight years, and began on the first of January, 1870, expiring December 31st, 1877; and that the present Board has the right and power of appointment, and that the Board of 1876 had not.

These questions are for the consideration of the Board, and if, in their opinion, the matter assumes a legal aspect, they of course have only to treat it as a legal question. In the face of the law, we have nothing to urge on the grounds of party policy. Democracy demands nothing more than the execution of the law: it has never been satisfied with less. The law as it is written, until repealed, altered or modified, is the ground upon which North Carolinians have always stood, and will no doubt always stand. It is this which has given our State, preeminently, the name of a law-abiding people.

The present Board of Directors was appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of a Democratic Senate; and, individually and collectively, its members are worthy of and do possess the confidence of the people of the State. The matter is with them, and there we leave it. As they have the confidence, so will they no doubt have the public support in their action conscientiously taken, whatever it may be.

THE signing of the treaty of peace has relieved the European situation immensely. Negotiations for a peace Congress have been resumed. The talk in the British Parliament has suddenly taken a pacific turn. Cordial relations have been established between the Czar and the Sultan. The storm is at length actually over, and all danger of a conflict between Russia and England or Austria, or both, has passed. This peaceful outlook should brighten our markets.

A WAYNE county negro has confessed that on the night of the Worley murder Noah Cherry told him that himself, Bob Thompson and Harris Atkinson, all colored, had committed the bloody deed. This confession removes the last shadow of doubt as to Noah Cherry's guilt. The evidence published in the NEWS a few days after the murder, pointed clearly to him as the criminal. Subsequently suspicion was fixed on Bob Thompson and Harris Atkinson.

THE Riots of 1877 cost the Pennsylvania Railroad Company ten millions of dollars. That road is not likely in future to reduce the wages of its mechanics below the starving point. The lesson should not be lost on other companies. Oppression never fails to breed crime. The poorest worm will sting the foot that treads upon it.

THE UNDERSIGNED PURPOSES establishing a school in Raleigh for the preparation of young gentlemen for admission to the Bar.

The advantages which the city offers in the convenience of access to the best libraries, in opportunities for attending the Courts which are in session more than half the year, and in visiting members of the Bar and other prominent gentlemen, surpass those of any other locality in the State.

Lectures will be delivered at night for the benefit of those engaged in business.

Fee for the course, one hundred dollars.

It is proposed to form a new class on the first of January next.

Applicants received immediately.

Good board, lodging, lights and fuel can be had at $16 per month in four weeks.

DAILY NEWS.

WEDNESDAY ..... MARCH 6, 1878

THE DAILY NEWS is the best weekly paper published in North Carolina. It is only $4 DOLLARS per year, postage paid, containing columns of paid printed news from every section of the country, and important advertisements. Always Cash.

Fo'd It Up Carefully.

Gallant nation, ruled by numbers,
Say not that your hopes are fled;
Keep that glorious flag which slumbers
On—day to avenge your dead.
Keep it widowed, sinless mother;
Keep it sister—mourning brother;
Fold it with an iron will;
Fold it more, but—keep it still,
Keep it till your children take it,
Once again to hail and make it
All it ever strives have bled and fought for—
All it ever bear's have sought for.

Bled and fought for all a'one,
All alone! aye, shame the story;
Millions here deplore the state;
Shame, also! for England's glory,
Freedom called, and called in vain.
Fold that banner sadly, slowly;
Treat it gently, for 'tis holy;
Till that day—yes, furl it sadly,
Then once more unfurl it gladly;
Conquered banner—keep it still.

GENERAL NOTES.

The Iowa Senate has passed a bill restoring capital punishment.

Mr. Russell Gurney, ex-Recorder of London, retires with a pension of $15,000 a year.

Marriage is becoming fashionable among the Catholic priests of Germany, the civil law protecting them.

Ex Senator James R. Doolittle is lecturing in Wisconsin upon "Russia, the Coming Power of the Old World."

Under Spanish law a man suspected of crime can be kept in prison for five years before the case is called. This gives the prosecution time to work up proofs.

Isaac Cooper, the last survivor of the crew of the Shannon, the British frigate that fought the Chesapeake, has just died in England at the age of eighty-six.

Francesco Crispi, who is considered the strongest man in the present Italian Cabinet, claims descent from the patrician family of that name in ancient Rome, to which the historian Sallust belonged.

Following the fashion of "No Cards" in the marriage notices, some of the New York churches have "No Collection" attached to the notice of church service. The churches in Philadelphia do not do this.

"The times are hard, my dear," said a man to his better half, "and I find it difficult to keep my nose above water." "You could easily keep your nose above water," returned the lady, "if you didn't keep it so often above brandy."

An English gentleman committed suicide a few days ago leaving a paper to say that he did so because his wife was a great deal too good for him. Right here stepped in the Coroner's jury with the verdict that he was insane.

The Iowa Senate has a Newman who makes opening prayers like this: "We pray thee, O Lord, that although it may not be pleasing to many of thy servants, yet we would beseech thy blessing upon the President of the United States."

Prof. Newcomb is too big for this world. He says this earth is so small, compared with the celestial spaces, that if one should shut his eyes and fire at random in the air, the chance of bringing down a bird would be better than that of a comet of any kind striking the earth.

The Emperor William is eighty years old; the King of Holland, sixty; the Czar, fifty-nine; Queen Victora, fifty-eight; the Emporer Francis Joseph, forty-seven; Humbert, thirty-four; the Sultan, thirty-three; the King of Greece, thirty-two; the King of Spain, twenty.

The Philadelphia Board of Trade has been discussing the subject of the intelligent distribution of charity, the drift of the debate being the Press says, that charitable supplies and agencies are superabundant, and what is required is their harmonious interdependence and co-operation.

The sword which Victor Emmanuel wore during the campaign of 1859, and which has just been presented to the municipality of Turin, bears these inscriptions: "Long live the Italian Republic!" "To live free or die." The weapon was used by Marshal Massena in the days of the First Napoleon.

A newly-invented car for testing the strength of bridges is to be used in Connecticut. It contains an immense tank filled with water. In case the bridge gives signs of weakness the moment of a lever opens the sides of the tank, and the water instantly pours out, relieving the bridge of 80 tons weight.

High ritual is on the increase in London. Thirty-nine churches now celebrate the daily communion, against 11 last year; 340 have surpliced choirs, against 114; 35 have eucharistic vestments, against 14; 39 display candles on the altar, and since 1867 the use of incense has been extended from 3 churches to 16.

Lord Napier, the new commander-in-chief of the British army, was born in 1810, and is therefore nearly seventy years old. He is said, however, to be exceedingly well preserved and a perfect type of a soldier. Sir Garnet Wolseley, chief of staff, is an Irishman by birth, forty-five years of age, and has served in the Crimea, in India and other portions of the world.

Pope Leo XIII. was crowned in the Sixtine Chapel Sunday. The ceremony commenced at half-past nine o'clock in the morning and terminated at half-past one o'clock in the afternoon. The cardinals, prelates, and diplomatists accredited to the Vatican, and a few other persons were present. The Pope was afterward carried to his apartment, blessing the spectators on the way.

Daubigny, the eminent French landscape painter who lately died, was untaught, but came of a race of artists. Without a grain of any kind of affectation, he lived a poet's and an artist's life. In summer the studio of his predilection was a cabin on a roughly-constructed raft, on which he made excursions on the rivers Seine, Marne and Oise, and lived contentedly on bread, cheese and red wine. When a mere boy he and a fellow artist, who had been engaged to paint ornamental scrolls on the doors of the Versailles Museum, saved by great frugality money enough to make an artistic pilgrimage to Rome on foot. He was a man of noble heart and kindly nature, charitable almost to excess. His hair and beard were silvered early; the dominant expression of his face was that of melancholy, and there was something Oriental in the calm and reserve of his manner.

The Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., exhibits the secret of its great popularity and success by wisely maintaining its old standard of excellence since its reduction of rates. f27-1w

Xanthine Co., Richmond, Va.:
I have used the Xanthine now for three years, and have induced others to try it, and have never known it to fail in accomplishing all you claim for it. It is an excellent tonic a pleasant dressing, removing and preventing dandruff and all unpleasant itching, promoting and preserving the natural growth and color of the hair, and rendering it glossy and pliable. I confidently, cheerfully and knowingly recommend it.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——To-day is the first of the Lenten season.

——Capt. J. J. Th[illegible] advertises a [illegible] will be found on the first page.

——A drummer's license has been issued by the Treasurer to Fogg & Bramlet, Boston, Mass.

——There will be a meeting of the Knights of Honor at their Castle Hall this evening at 7½ o'clock.

——All the members of the Board of Directors of the Insane Asylum are in the city, save one, so there will be a full meeting to-day.

——Our jolly friend, Mr. Alex. Stronach has named three brands of his cigars after the parties who "burglarized" his establishment not long since.

——We call attention to the letter of Hon. Horace H. Munson, Grand Master of Masons in North Carolina, in regard to Mrs. Ralph P. Buxton's proposed readings.

——An altercation occurred between a white man and a negro on Martin street yesterday. The negro struck the white man, whose name was Rowland, on the head with a stone, inflicting a rather severe wound, which was dressed by Dr. James McKee.

——The ordinary monotony of Martin street was diversified on yesterday afternoon by a contest between a darkey armed with a long whip and two of his sable brethren furnished with boards. The parties beat each other until satisfied, and finally the man with the whip was adjudged the victor.

Fertilizer License.

State Treasurer Worth on yesterday issued a license to Gustave Dambmann, of Baltimore, for the sale of the "Arlington" Fertilizer. Another $500 for the Department of Agriculture.

Market Reports.

Messrs. R. F. Jones & Co., will report the grocery market for this month. Messrs. Kelly, Purefoy & Brewer will report the cotton market. The receipts of cotton and false-packed bales will be reported by A. A. Thompson.

The Sunday School Convention.

Some days ago we spoke of the Convention of Sunday School workers to be held in Atlanta, Ga., and therein stated the name of the gentleman to whom all communications should be addressed as Rev. T. C. Boyd. We should have written it Boykin. Those who intend going will be governed accordingly.

Mayor's Court.

Only one case was tried before His Honor the Mayor yesterday, that of Sallie Dunn, negress, arrested for assaulting another darkey named Julia Griffin and tearing off her clothes. The assault was made on the public highway. For her offense against the laws and propriety the assaulting damsel was fined $1 and costs.

Cotton Notes.

Mr. A. A. Thompson, the Secretary of the Board of Trade, whose duty it is to report the receipt of falsely-packed bales of cotton, reports that on yesterday, March 5th, two bales of such cotton were received, put up at B. T. Rogers' gin, which is managed by a man named Thompson. The receipts of cotton on yesterday were 122 bales.

Personals.

Col. Paul B. Means, of Concord, is at present in our city.

Hon. Paul C. Cameron, of Hillsboro, is also in town.

Mr. J. L. Stone, the sewing machine man, left our city yesterday for Philadelphia and New York. He will, while absent, look after the latest improvements in machines, and will return in 10 or 12 days.

Filling the Cisterns.

The Rescue S. F. Engine at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon began filling the fire cisterns on Fayetteville street, from the cisterns in the Capital Square. The one in front of the store of Mr. C. D. Heartt, containing 3,960 gallons, was filled in 13 minutes and 10 seconds, by a stream from a nozzle of 13 16 ths diameter. The company attended on the Rescue was 120 ft[illegible] to the square inch. We are now ready for business should a fire alarm be given.

A Correction.

Some days since a statement appeared in the NEWS in regard to the price of gas in our city, as compared with the Charlotte rates. The Charlotte Observer says:

"The Raleigh News credits us with paying 17 cents per gallon for kerosene oil and $2 per thousand for gas. Wish it was so, but it isn't. We pay $5 for gas and 14 cents for kerosene, and this being so a great many of us don't use gas."

Mrs. Buxton's Readings.

OFFICE OF GRAND MASTER OF MASONS IN NORTH CAROLINA.

To the Masonic Fraternity in North Carolina;

I take pleasure in officially recommending to your especial attention, the bearer, Mrs. Ralph P. Buxton, who proposes giving Readings in various parts of our State for the benefit of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, and bespeak for her and the cause she represents that hearty co-operation which the sympathetic should always exercise for so noble and worthy a charity.

Fraternally Yours,
HORACE H. MUNSON,
Grand Master.

Tickets can be purchased at Heart's Drug Store, and at Williams & Haywood's Drug Store.

A Deaf Mute Lecturer.

Prof. Job Turner, a deaf mute, and for thirty-five years an instructor in the Virginia Institution at Staunton, has been sent out by the Rev. Thomas Gallaudet, general manager to "the church mission to deaf mutes," as a Lay Missionary to deaf mutes. The Rev. Mr. Rich will read the service and lecture to the hearing audience, which Mr. Turner will interpret in the sign language to the deaf mutes, at the church of the Good Shepherd on Thursday evening at half-past 7 o'clock. A collection will be taken for missions to deaf mutes. All seats free, and every one cordially invited.

Our Water Supply.

The fire committee of the city have been engaged in ascertaining the facts in relation to the water supply of our city the quantity in the various cisterns &c. Upon an examination they found the capacity of the cisterns to be as follows: No. 1, Northeast of capitol, 5,670 gallons; No. 2, Southwest of capitol, 5,670; No. 3, opposite Heartt's Shoe store, Fayetteville street, 3,960; No. 4, opposite Zacharias' store, Fayetteville street, 3,960; No. 5, opposite Mahler's store, Fayetteville street, 3,960; No. 6, on Hargett near Wilmington street, 5,400; No. 7, intersection of Fayetteville and Davie streets, 35,000; No. 8, intersection of Davie and McDowell streets, 27,787; No. 9, Deaf & Dumb Asylum, 4,500. The aggregate capacity of these cisterns is 95,079 gallons. On the 26th of February when inspected, they contained 70,205 gallons.

The Baptist Dime Concert.

The elegant rooms at the residence of Rev. Dr. Pritchard were filled last evening by a very select assemblage. The musical selections, both vocal and instrumental, were admirably rendered, as was evinced by the appreciative applause and comments of those so fortunate as to be listeners. Mrs. W. W. Vass, the organist of the Salisbury Street Church, presided with her usual grace at the piano. Among those taking part in the performance we noticed Mrs. R. G. Lewis, Mrs. W. H. Dodd, Mrs. F. L. Mahler, Miss Mamie Lewis, Miss McDaniel, Miss Heck, Mrs. A. D. Jenkins, Miss Briggs. The following gentlemen also took part: Messrs. W. H. Dodd, J. L. Ray and Chas. Newcomb. The performers admirably presented some vocal gems, in a most effective style. Messrs. Wm. Simpson and V. C. Royster, exhibited their powers as artistes, the first playing the flute and the latter the violin. Mr. Willie Andrews favored the company with an amusing recitation. We regret that want of space prevents our particularizing. The evening passed away amid unusual enjoyment.

A New Pastor.

At a meeting of the members of the Church and congregation of the First Presbyterian Church of this city, on Monday afternoon, to elect a pastor to succeed Rev. Dr. Vaughan, whose physical disabilities prevent him from accepting a call which would have otherwise been so cordially and unanimously extended to him, after a most harmonious meeting, the Rev. Wm. T. Hall, DD., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, of Lynchburg, Va., was unanimously elected. Dr. Hall was for several years pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Canton, Miss., but in the fall of 1872 was called to the pulpit which he has since filled with so much acceptability and where his labors have been so greatly blessed. Dr. Hall is a native of North Carolina; is a gentleman of unusual culture and refinement and most genial and pleasant in his manners and intercourse and is said to be one of the best Pastors in the Southern Presbyterian Church. We congratulate the Church upon the selection of one so eminently qualified to serve them and hope that Dr. Hall will accept the call so flatteringly made.

Dr. Hall was born in Gaston county, and is a son of Rev. James Davidson Hall. His collegiate education was obtained at Davidson College in this State. He afterwards took a theological course at Columbia, S. C., where he was a favorite student of the celebrated Dr. Thornwell.

Maj. W. H. Crow, the successful Gen. Agent Ætna Life Co. received checks from the home office yesterday for above amount, covering loss on the death of Joseph Ethridge, of Bertie county. The Ætna has paid in death claims, in this State, since the war, the immense sum of $730,483.49.

A strong argument in favor of the Ætna.

Controversy among the first-class hotels of New York shows that the service is constantly changing from one first-class hotel to the other, and the bills of fare show the same variety of dishes. The important fact, to travellers, is that the Grand Central offers the same accommodations for one and two dollars per day less than the others. m6eod1w.

That Terrible Scourge,

Fever and ague, and its congener, bilious remittent, besides affections of the stomach, liver and bowels, produced by miasmatic air and water, are both eradicated and prevented by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a purely vegetable elixir, indorsed by physicians and more extensively used as a remedy for the above class of disorders, as well as for many others, than any medicine of the age. A languid circulation, a torpid state of the liver, a want of vital stamina, are conditions peculiarly favorable to malarial diseases. They are, however, surely remedied by the great Preventive, which, by invigorating the system and endowing it with regularity as well as vigor, provides it with a resistant power which enables it to withstand disorders not only of a malarial type, but a host of others to which feeble and ill regulated systems are subjected. The Bitters are a safe as well as searching eradicant, and have widely superseded that dangerous drug, quinine, which palliates but does not eradicate malaria. mr6-d6twlt

What Eminent St. Louis Physicians Say.

Colden's Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator is a very agreeable article of diet, and particularly useful when tonics are required, being tolerated when other forms of animal food are rejected. In diptheria, typhoid fever and every depressing disease, its use will be attended with great advantage. We have prescribed it with success and believe it to be a most valuable medicine." Drs. J. H. Leslie, G. F. Copp, W. G. Moore, Thos. Reynard, S. B. Prassus, R. A. Vaughan, J. C. Yarnall, S. B. Coutts, S. L. & J. C. Mickel L. Co. Boisliniere, Wm. Johnston, A. P. Langford. A Cloud of Witnesses.

For nearly a quarter of a century Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has been acknowledged by the people as a positive cure for all catarrhal affections. Its great popularity with physicians and patients, together with its constantly increasing sale, attests, in arguments stronger than words, its healing power. If there be general or nervous debility and impoverished blood, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery should be used in connection with the Catarrh Remedy. The following named parties are among the thousands who have been cured of catarrh by the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy:

A. F. Towns, New Geneva, Pa; D. J. Brown, St. Joseph, Mo; E. C. Lewis, Rutland, Vt.; Levi Springer, Nettle Lake, Ohio; Chas. Norcrog, North Chesterfield, Me.; Mrs. Milton Jones, Scriba, N. Y.; J. E. HAVE YOUR HAIR

TO LEARN HOW TO DO IT READ AND HEED WHAT FOLLOWS.

SAVE YOUR HAIR.—The laws of Health and Longevity demand it, the customs of social life require it. The matter is of great importance in every way.

BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR.—It is the surpassing crown of glory, and for the loss of it there is no compensation.

CULTIVATE YOUR HAIR.—For by no other means can it be saved and beautified.

LYON'S

KATHAIRON,

Discovered thirty-five years ago by Prof. Lyon, of Yale, is the most perfect preparation in the world for preserving and beautifying the hair.

BESIDES BEING THE BEST HAIR DRESSING EVER PRODUCED, LYON'S KATHAIRON WILL POSITIVELY PREVENT GRAYNESS, AND WILL RESTORE NEW HAIR TO BALD HEADS, if the roots and follicles are not destroyed.

It actually performs these seeming miracles of which the following is

A FAIR SPECIMEN.

I had been entirely bald for several years, constitutional, I suppose. I used a few bottles of Kathairon, and to my great surprise, I have a thick growth of young hair.

COL. JOHN L. DORRANCE, U. S. A.

In every important respect the Kathairon is absolutely incomparable. It is unequaled.

1. To Cure Baldness.
2. To Restore Gray Hair.
3. To Remove Dandruff.
